CURTICE C. WHITE

Box 107

HATFIELD, PA.

Spring Bulletin, 1930

WITH the coming of the new year, our thoughts naturally fly ahead to the new glories that we hope to find in our gardens, as the flowering seasons unfold, and our dread of the Winter and its discomforts are almost forgotten in the great expectation of what is before us. It is with the utmost impatience that we wait for the first opportunity to begin the work that brings us such satisfactory returns and such pleasure.

Keeping this in mind, we urge that you plan your garden early and then, having made your plans, that you order early.

We try hard to keep our list up-to-date. Every year we discard varieties that have run their course and try out many new ones, the best of which we eventually list for sale.

We assure you that the bulbs we send out are clean, strong and true to name. Anything proving otherwise will be replaced, but the results you will obtain are so far beyond our control that we cannot hold ourselves responsible for the same. Carrying charges will be prepaid on all orders over $1.00. Please send cash with order.

If references are desired, communicate with the Hatfield National Bank, Hatfield, Pa.

Plan to visit Atlantic City during the great flower festival September 9th to 14th inclusive. Glads will predominate on the 9th and 10th when the New Jersey Gladiolus Society will hold its third annual show. Come and bring your flowers.
